AN AESOP SOUND FABLE

SUMMERTIME

By John Foster.

Freddy Frog hops along with his violin case and sits down to play a tune on his toad stool. Monty Monk in the tree above, answers Freddy with another tune. The two continue awhile until an old owl, socks a squirrel, who is adding to the noise.

A mouse dragging himself along sees two women talking. One is slight but the other is not so dainty and he crawls in her shadow to pipe "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree". Other mice bounce along on bed springs and scare the women away.

Old Al, starts to mix a cooling drink for himself. A mouse plays "How Dry I am" on the piano and another toots the same thing on a tuba. Al chases his annoyers away and is about to sip the drink when a mouse with a sling shot smashes the glass.

The old man, quite sore, grabs his gun, chases the mice out and fires away. The shot hits a goat, who butts poor Al down the road.

AESOP SAYS:- "HAIR BRAINS AND SKIRTS ARE SHORT THIS SEASON".
